Response to Rule 6 Request for Flight and Passenger Information for London Luton Airport

August 2023

Sheet	Description
1 - Current Destination List	List of all current destinations in week commencing 24th July 2023 including frequencies, operating airlines, aircraft types and rating on GaWC Scale
2a - Daily Aircraft Movements and Passengers	Daily movements for all commercial passenger aircraft, daily movements for all aircraft (passenger, freight and business aviation), daily commercial passengers
2b - Weekly Aircraft Movements and Passengers	Weekly movements for all commercial passenger aircraft, weekly movements for all aircraft (passenger, freight and business aviation), weekly commercial passengers
2c - Monthly Aircraft Movements and Passengers	Monthly movements for all commercial passenger aircraft, monthly movements for all aircraft (passenger, freight and business aviation), monthly commercial passengers
3a - January Day Timetable 2019	Daily timetable for a Friday in January as illustrative of Winter - note actual destinations have been stated in full in 3a to 3d.
3b - April Day Timetable 2019	Daily timetable for a Friday in April (avoiding Easter) as illustrative of Spring
3c - August Day Timetable 2019	Daily timetable for a Friday August as illustrative of Summer - this forms the start point for the future Busy Day Timetables
3d - October Day Timetable 2019	Daily timetable for a Thursday October as illustrative of Autumn - this forms the start point for the future October Day Timetables and hence is a Thursday to allow assessment on typical weekday background road traffic
4 - Split of Passengers 2016 - 2019	Split of Passengers by Inbound/Outbound, Business and Leisure (including VFR and Other leisure split)
5 - Breakdown of Flights in 2019	Breakdown of number of flights annually between scheduled, charter and business aviation (private jets) as well as freight and engineering related for 2019
7 - 2019 Top Leisure Destinations	Top leisure destinations from LTN in 2019 - comparable to Table 5.4 in Need Case

6 - Business Aviation Definition
There is no standard definition for business aviation, which is a sub-sector of general aviation encompassing all flying not operating to a commercial schedule (including charter flights operating to a pre-planned schedule) carrying fare paying passengers or freight. Business aviation is defined by the CAA as 'non-commercial movements operated on aircraft conducting business operations'. The CAA also classifies 'Air Taxis' as charter flights utilising aircraft of less than 15 tonnes (excluding almost all aircraft used for commercial passenger services). Private aircraft may also, on occasion, be operated for business purposes.
In the case of London Luton Airport, the data presented in the Need Case [APP-213] , the term covers all non-commercial/scheduled flying at Luton and, therefore, includes all private, business and general aviation flying, including air taxi operations.
In common with most airports in the UK, no data is collected as to the purpose of these flights by the CAA, the airport operator or the aircraft operators. Therefore, a split of passengers between business and leisure for these movements is not possible.

Important Notes:

1) Some airlines do not distinguish between older generation Airbus A320/A321 and newer generation A320Neo/A321Neo aircraft within the OAG dataset. Therefore, some aircraft shown as Airbus A320 or Airbus A321 may actually be Neo versions of each.

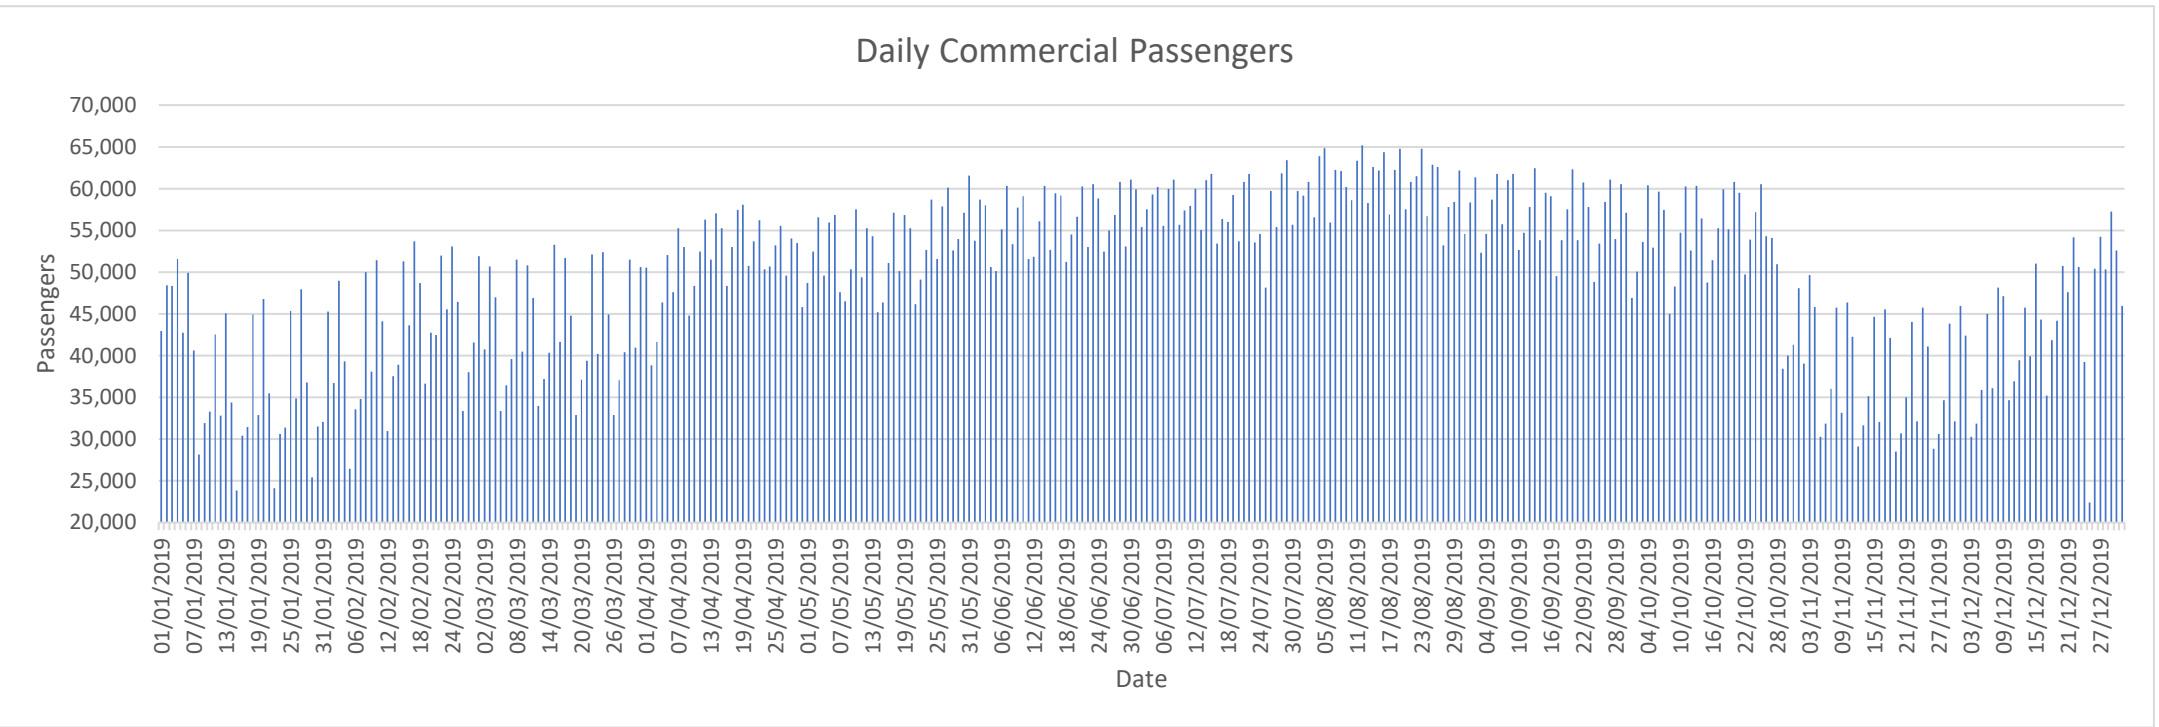

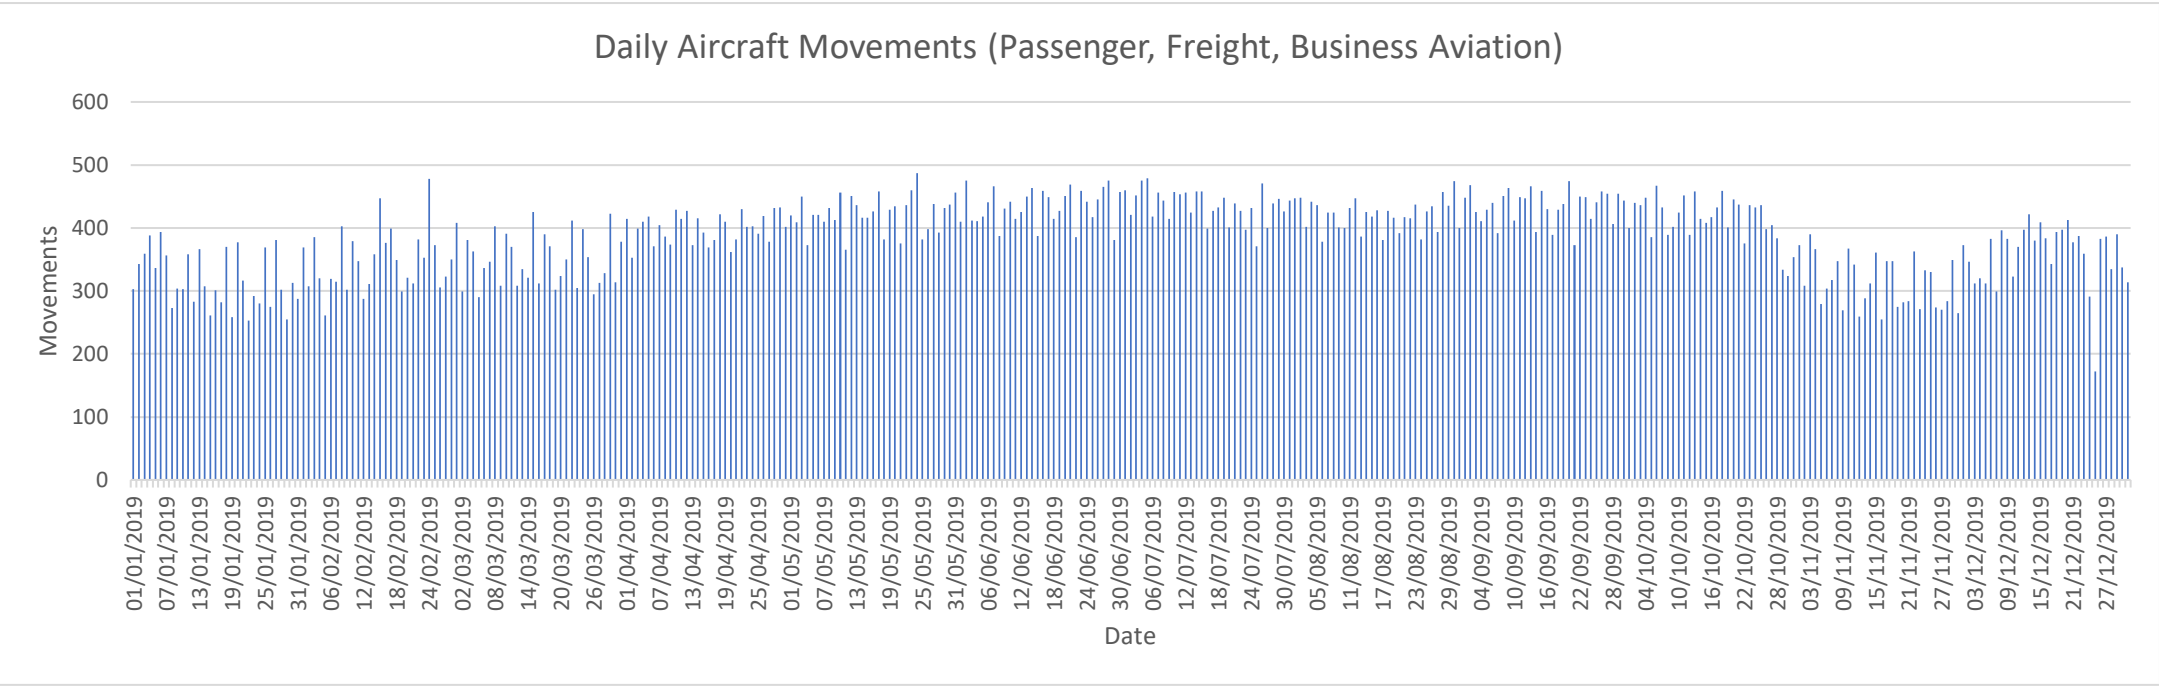

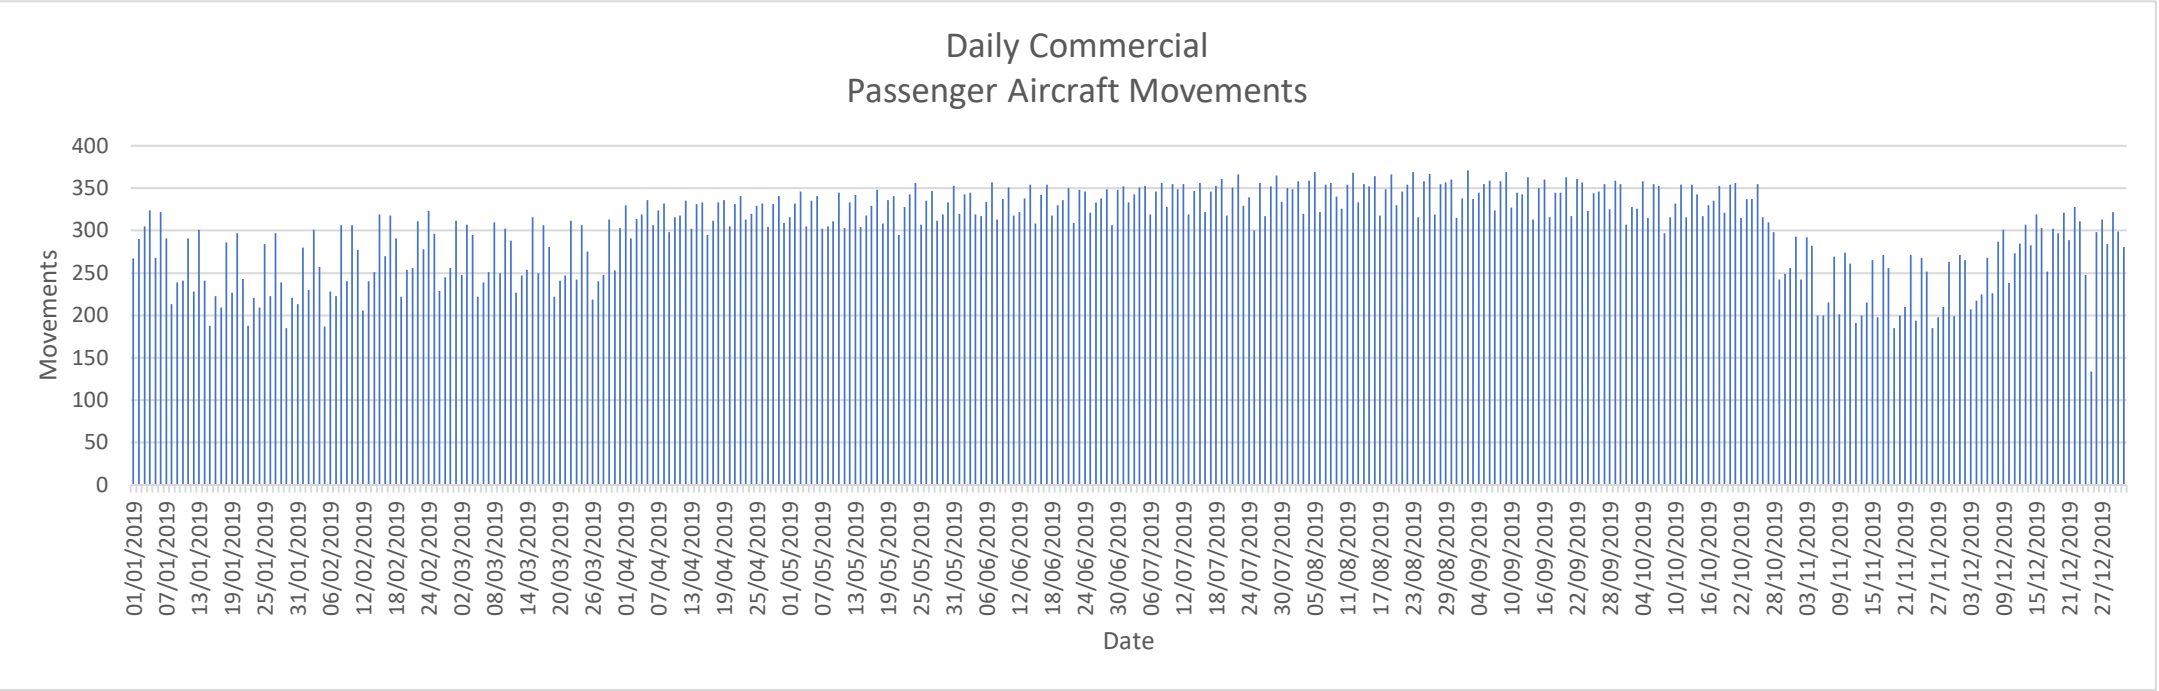

2) Even with daily flights, frequencies can change by day. Where destinations are operated daily, both the average daily frequency and the peak daily frequencies are shown.

3d - October Day Timetable 2019 (Thursday)

Source: Official Airline Guide (OAG)

Important Notes:

1) This timetable is the underpinning start point for the future October day tiemttables which are used for the transport modelling. This is a Thursday so as to reflect the need to check a midweek day on typical weekday background road traffic.

5 - Breakdown of Flights in 2019

Source: Airport Operational Data 2019

Important Note: It is increasingly difficult to distinguish between scheduled and charter flights due to the more hybrid nature of some services. The table below reflects the split in movements equivalent to the split between scheduled and charter passengers provided by LLAOL (the airport operator) in their 2019 Annual Monitoring Report

Flight Type	Movements
Scheduled Passenger Flights	108,770
Charter Passenger Flights	1,775
Freight Flights	2,826
Business Aviation	28,106
Engineering Related	4
Total	141,481
