Council takeover will 'secure' pools' future

Merger with authority 'best way' to ensure site continues for years to come, say bosses

By Joe Harbert
jharbert@thekmgroup.co.uk

Trustees of Faversham Pools say a merger to bring the much-loved complex under a new council-led contract is vital for the facility to stay afloat long-term.

Fears have been raised that unless the site is brought under the same umbrella as Swale Borough Council's (SBC) other leisure centres, it faces an uncertain future.

The charity currently running the facility says rising running costs - which now stand at £1.2 million a year - and its limited reserves have seen it put under pressure.

The Faversham Pools Trust has been in discussions with SBC officers for the past year.

Faversham Pools are currently run by a trust

They have now agreed for Faversham Pools to be included as part of a new council tender which would see it be managed alongside Swallows at Sittingbourne and the Sheppey Leisure Centre, with discussions around guarantees underway.

Takeover bid will give boost to park

Hopes to reinvigorate 'underutilised' visitor centre at popular venue

A takeover bid to reinvigorate part of an "underutilised" popular country park in need of some "TLC" has been submitted.

Faversham Town Council (FTC) is looking to operate the visitors' centre and museum at Oare Gunpowder Works, which has seen a decline in its opening hours in recent years.

The visitors' centre serves as a means of providing information to customers and hosts a museum, however it has been run by volunteers meaning it is not open as often as councillors and residents feel it could be.

Cllr Josh Rowlands (Lib Dem), mayor of Faversham, explained: "For about two years now SBC have asked for expressions of interest for the visitors' centre site."

"What it's looking for is for an organisation or group to take over the site and keep it open a bit more."

"I'm highly supportive of it, the Oare Gunpowder Works is a really important asset for Faversham and it's something that's underutilised."
