With reference to the latest Deadline extension, I reiterate all of my previous comments, together with this statement:

We have waited a long time for the airport to re-open, with repeated reasons given for the delay.

I do not fly but I full endorse the views of those who support the application to have an airport in this part of the country. The fears concerns of the protagonists have no foundation, whilst the keeping of a large 'open' space in this area has proved extremely useful over the past few years, for lorry parking, a testing (covid) centre etc.

My view is that these repeated applications and requests for more investigations etc. are because one - or maybe two persons are trying to find an inspector who will agree with their negative views on this marvellous plan! In life, if you change things enough times, someone will come up with a view that others have shown they don't approve of, and it seems the Inspectorate are constantly awaiting or trying to find someone to BLINK.
