Myself and my husband, Graham J Freeman, are totally against more flights being allowed into Gatwick as per the latest application for the Northern Runway at Gatwick.

The reasons are not only because of much more pollution in the air above the area of Tunbridge Wells where we live, but as well the noise created by flights low over our area, not just throughout the day but especially in the middle of the night. We are often woken up between midnight and 5am by flights over or close to our house and many of our neighbours say the same.

If more flights to South Kent were required, it was a huge mistake not to have sorted out Manston Airport, where most flights I believe used to be mainly over the sea and not where people live.

Not only will this expansion cause pollution in the air, it will also mean many more cars and lorries and vans on the local roads and A21 and M25 which are constantly blocked by heavy traffic and crashes.

Money from big businesses seems to speak so much louder than the people who are affected by these problems - please, please think - would you like to live by flight paths - maybe you should spend a week living below them to see how people are affected.

Yours faithfully

Carole A Freeman (Mrs)
