Why can't you spread the flight paths over a wider area so more people suffer noise but not the same people. So it will cost more..tough...let the people who want to fly pay more. Once upon a time we only had planes landing over the Marsh Green side of Edenbridge now we get planes taking off both left and right of Edenbridge and still the planes coming in over Marsh Green. I reckon we get less than a minute of quietness during the period from 5am to 2am in the morning. 21 hours of noise. Why do you not close down at midnight? Also what are you going to do about the air we breathe down here. After any rain you can look into any puddle and see a film of fuel on the surface. Please spread the area of approach.Regards Richard Sills
