Q1.12.7 Viridor Response: Viridor's Ardley ERF is permitted to only accept specific combustible non-hazardous waste streams. It is likely that a large proportion of construction related waste (soils etc) will not be suitable for processing at the Facility. In terms of capacity the Facility serves a number of long term local authority contracts and aims to operate at full capacity throughout the year. The facility has some capacity that is filled by commercial waste suppliers operating in an open competitive market. Whilst the facility may have capacity to serve an element of the waste generated during construction and operation of the OxSRFI development, provision cannot be guaranteed and will also depend on a number of factors such as the waste type and specification.
